Analytics Report

1. Predicted engagement (week 3/4) - LinkedIn: ~320 impressions → 28 likes, 9 comments, 4 shares (≈ 10 % interaction). - Twitter: ~540 impressions → 12 likes, 4 retweets, 2 replies (≈ 3 % interaction). 2. Strongest piece – The LinkedIn carousel on “AI-First Skill Stack for Indian Quants.” Visual skill-maps + concrete tool links (Python-ML libraries, Cloud-ML platforms) drove higher saves and comments, aligning with the firm’s thought-leadership positioning. 3. Improvement vector for weakest piece – Twitter thread on “2025 Trading Tools.” It suffers from low visual appeal and fragmented hashtags. Add a concise hook, embed a single compelling graphic, and use 2-3 targeted hashtags (#AITrading, #QuantIndia) to boost discoverability. 4. Recommendations for next week - Cross-post a teaser video (30 s) on both platforms, linking back to the full LinkedIn carousel. - Launch a poll on Twitter asking which AI tool readers will adopt first; use results in a follow-up article. - Leverage hiring momentum: spotlight a senior quant’s AI project in a LinkedIn “Employee Spotlight” post to reinforce talent brand. 5. Brand risk flags – No overt claims about guaranteed returns; however, ensure any performance language is qualified (“potential”) to avoid regulator scrutiny.
