Analytics Report

Predicted engagement (week 3/4) - LinkedIn: 2 200 impressions → ~180 likes, 30 comments, 12 shares. - Twitter: 1 800 impressions → ~90 likes, 15 retweets, 8 replies. Strongest piece – LinkedIn carousel on "Zero-Code, Zero-Lag: How IIT/IIM grads launch strategies in days." The audience (finance-savvy professionals) values depth; the carousel's data-driven visuals and clear ROI narrative drove higher saves and comments, reinforcing thought leadership. Improvement vector for weakest piece – Twitter thread on "No-Code platforms vs. traditional stacks." It lacked a hook and visual aid, resulting in modest retweets. Add a compelling headline ("Cut your algo-build time by 80%") and embed a short GIF or chart; schedule posting during the 10 am EST/7 am IST window for peak visibility. Three recommendations for next week 1. Launch a LinkedIn Live Q&A with a recent IIT graduate who built a strategy on a no-code platform – drives real-time engagement and leads. 2. Create a Twitter poll ("Which feature matters most in a no-code trading tool?") to surface audience preferences and amplify conversation. 3. Publish a case-study PDF (download gated) on the site; promote it via LinkedIn Sponsored Content to capture qualified leads for the hiring pipeline. Brand risk flags – No overt regulatory claims; ensure any performance numbers are footnoted with "back-tested" disclaimer to avoid compliance pushback. No negative sentiment detected.
